SHOW ACTIVITIES BEGIN.

Will Appear Again at Providence — Better Show Promised than Ever Before.

Preliminary arrangements for the ninth Tech Show have already been made. The name has not yet been decided upon, for it has been found difficult to find a name as bright and successful as are the dialogue of the play and the lyrics. The author of this year's production is E. W. James '07, and James Francis has again been engaged to coach the Show. The work of setting the lyrics to music is now practically finished, and a call for candidates will probably be made in about ten days.

The vaudeville stunts, dancing and the like, which last year were practically abandoned, will this year be introduced again to a limited extent. Pantomime will also figure in the play, which will, of course, deal with college students in general and Tech students in particular.

The theatres and dates of the performances will be as follows: at the Colonial, Boston, on the afternoons of Thursday and Friday, April 25, and 26; at the Auditorium, Malden, Mass., on Friday evening, April 26; and at the Opera House, Providence, on Saturday evening, April 27th. The question of going to Providence was long and carefully considered, as it is a big undertaking to take the Show out of town, but it has been finally decided that last year's performance there has paved the way for an even more successful trip this year. The Show's friends at Providence are looking for it, and promise it another warm welcome there.

Candidates are wanted at once for the position of assistant business managers. The work of these men will consist chiefly in looking after the program and selling space in its columns to the advertisers. The experience is interesting and valuable. First and second year men are urged to come out for this position. Promotions to the higher offices in the Show are made on merit alone. A meeting will be held tomorrow in 34 Rogers at one o'clock, when men who wish to compete will be given further details.

This year a substantial cash prize will be awarded for the poster in the hope of getting one from the school, as it is a distinct reproach upon Tech to have it made outside of the Institute. The purpose of the poster is simply to advertise the Show and the one which best accomplishes that will be selected. As soon as a suitable name can be found for the Show, further notice in regard to this matter will be given.

Business Managers Wanted. — A meeting will be held in 34 Rogers tomorrow at 1 P.M. for the men who wish to try for the position of assistant business managers of Tech Show. Freshmen and Sophomores are urged by the Management to attend.

William Warren Garrett, '02, Course III, captain of the 1902 Track Team, died at San Antonio, Texas, Jan. 15, 1907.

BUILDINGS MAY GO.

B. & A. May Run Tracks Through Eng. C and Lowell Buildings.

That the Institute will lose in the near future two of its buildings is a very probable thing. The Boston and Albany railroad has petitioned the legislature to be allowed to lay tracks to the old Park Square station, and it seems likely that the petition will be favored, owing to the recent stir in Boston in favor of an increase in terminal facilities.

The plan of the Boston and Albany is to branch from the present two track system just beyond the Trinity Court station, cut across Trinity Place, through Engineering C and Lowell, across the open plot in front of Lowell and under Berkeley Street to the Park Square station. This plan would entail not only the demolition of Lowell and Engineering C but it is probable that a portion of the Pierce building might have to be torn down.

It is rumored that the railroad is negotiating with the Institute for the purchase of these buildings with their sites. It is also believed that the Institute has first option on the large tract of land in front of Lowell. The railroad will also be forced to purchase this before putting through the plan.

FENCING BEGINS.

First Meet Tomorrow. Hard Schedule Being Arranged.

Tech's fencing season will open tomorrow evening with a dual meet at the Gym with the Springfield Training School. The plans for the rest of the season include a triangular meet between Tech, Cornell and Columbia, in New York, and one between Tech, Columbia and Yale at the Gym. A dual meet will also be held with Tufts sometime this month, and arrangements are being made for a triangular meet between Tech, Pennsylvania and Cornell in Boston.

Capt. Harold Bounetheau, '08, and E. M. Loring, '09, and one other man will represent Tech tomorrow evening. As Tech's strength is unknown this year, and this is the first year that the Training School has fenced in collegiate circles, the outcome of the meet is much in doubt. The Tech team is well balanced and is ready to put up a hard fight.

RELAY TEAM PICKED.

The final trials for the Relay Team were held yesterday afternoon the following men being picked: Blackburn, '08, Gram, '09, Todd, '08, and Gould, '07; and Moses, '09, substitute. The squad will go on the training table at once. Coach Mahan considers Holy Cross a tough proposition.

FACULTY NOTICES.

Tuitions. — Students are reminded that tuitions are payable on the first day of the term. Those who have not paid should give the matter their immediate attention.

Personal Hygiene. — A course of fifteen lectures and recitations on "The Care of Personal Health" will be given this term by Dr. P. G. Stiles, Instructor in Physiology and Personal Hygiene in the Biological Department, and formerly Instructor in the University and Bellevue Hospital Medical College of New York City. This course is intended to be immediately serviceable for engineers, chemists, architects, and others whose professional work is likely to bring them under unsanitary, tropical, or other unusual or unfavorable conditions and is open to all students of the Institute. The textbook used will be "The Human Mechanism: Its Physiology and Hygiene and the Sanitation of Its Surroundings," and a day and hour (probably 4-5 P.M.) will be chosen to suit as far as possible the convenience of the members of the class.

NOTICES.

Chess Club. — The Chess Club will meet in 26 Rogers at 1 P.M. today.

Architects. — The Architectural Society will hold a smoker at the Union Friday evening.

1908. — A Junior Class meeting will be held Monday, Feb. 11, at 1 P.M. in Huntington Hall. Several matters of importance will be brought up.

Texans Notice. — There will be a very important meeting of the Texas Club Friday evening at 7.30 in 16 Rogers and all Texans are urged to be present.

Frat. Men. — All fraternity men from colleges other than Tech will oblige Technique '08, by leaving their names, college, and fraternity at the Cage for McGuigan, '08.

Electrical Engineers. — The first meeting of the Electrical Engineering Society will be held Monday, Feb. 18, at 8 P.M. at the Union. Prof. Jackson will be the guest of honor.

Friday, February 8, 1907.

This year's plans for Tech Show do not seem to be more ambitious than those of last year, but on the whole this appears to be Tech Show, the best policy, for the Show is a stupendous undertaking and the addition of any more performances would probably prove to be "the last straw." THE TECH is pleased to hear that the Show will again go to Providence. The reception given the performance by the Rhode Islanders and the jolly good time that the men had while on the trip will never be forgotten by those who went with the Show.

The Show is run primarily to give the men of the Institute a chance to "rub elbows." It is proverbial now that a man will never find such good, honest friends as he finds in his Tech Show work. Along with this consideration is that of the good time which the cast of the Show has, both during the rehearsals and at the performances. The men who have taken part will not need to be urged to be on hand for the first rehearsal, for they have the "Tech Show Germ" and couldn't stay away if they tried. The new men are, however, urged to take part in the Show, either in the cast or on the management. Everyone has an equal chance and a new man will be taken every-time if he shows himself a better worker than the old. Here's success to Tech Show 1907!

At the recent Alumni dinner, Major Briggs recommended that five dollars be added to the tuition fee as an assessment on each student for cable.

The Advisory Council has long recognized the need of some regular income, on which they could base their expenditures each year. Tech Show has furnished a considerable portion of the money but the profits of the different shows vary so much that the Advisory Council one year finds itself with a surplus and the next a deficit. As Major Briggs himself says,

Tech Show is not primarily in the field as a money-making scheme. Profits have always been a secondary consideration, and it is not wise under any condition to push the Show for more money. THE TECH appreciates Major Briggs' plea for a regular income, but believes, however, that the plan which he has recommended is impracticable.

In the first place, the plan is entirely out of line with the traditions of the Institute. It has always been the custom here to have the one fee—a fee which covers all expenses, excepting, of course, laboratory breakage, books, etc. Other colleges have a fee for this thing, another for that thing, and so on; but the Institute's $250 covers all expenses. In the second place, not every man at Tech can afford to give up $5.00 every year for the support of something in which he probably has no interest. Tech is not a school of rich men; the man without a surplus of money predominates and it is this man that must be considered. Again, the Institute has never officially recognized athletics and this plan would directly violate the policy of allowing the students, with the aid of the Alumni, to handle their own athletic affairs.

However, THE TECH welcomes Major Briggs' plan, because it is a step in advance. A regular income for the support of athletics is an urgent necessity and it is to be hoped that in the near future some plan may be evolved, by which the Advisory Council will be assured of a certain, regular income each year. Until such a plan is found, sport at the Institute will never be run on that consistent policy, which is an important factor in athletic success.

ber of the prominent members of the Corporation, were interviewed but none would make a definite statement on the matter. However, each gave the opinion that the Institute would sell the land to the railroad if it wished it.

According to many members of the Faculty and Corporation if this plan goes through it means that the Institute will move sooner than was expected. The loss of these two important buildings and the lack of room on or near the present site for the duplication of these buildings would mean that a new location would have to be sought. The passing of railroad trains so close would also preclude engineering work of good quality being done in any of the engineering buildings left standing.

PREXY TAKES TRIP.

Dr. Pritchett left last week for a pleasure trip in Southern waters to regain his health. He was suddenly taken ill on Dec. 13, upon his arrival in New York from Boston and for over a month was confined to his home with a mild attack of typhoid fever.

Dr. Pritchett had become so worn out during the past year in handling the business of two institutions, Technology and the Carnegie Foundation, that, although the attack of fever was a mild one, the doctor's had difficulty in keeping it in control. The President is now well on the road to recovery.

Dr. Pritchett went to New Orleans with a party and embarked on one of the boats of the United Fruit Co. fitted especially for this trip, which will include Central America and the West Indies. It is expected that the party will return to New Orleans about March 1, and Dr. Pritchett will immediately come up to Boston.

TECH CLUB MEETS.

The Annual Meeting of the Technology Club of the Merrimack Valley was held on Friday evening Feb. 1, at the New American House Lowell. Thirty-five members were present. The following officers were elected for 1907. Pres. R. A. Hale, Lawrence, Vice-Pres., Geo. A. Nelson, Lowell, Secy., John A. Collins, Jr., Lawrence, Treas., W. O. Hildreth, Lowell, Mem. Exec. Com., John Alden, Lawrence. Seven new names were added to the list of members.

Dinner was served at seven o'clock. After the dinner the president introduced the speaker of the evening Prof. Jaggar of M. I. T. who spoke on "The Relation of the Engineer to Volcanoes and Earthquakes." The talk was illustrated with many stereopticon views taken at Vesuvius, St. Pierre, and San Francisco. In closing Prof. Jaggar gave detailed descriptions of the seismograph, the delicate instrument that registers the movements of the earth's surface.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE.

William Faversham will have a doubly interesting week at the Hollis Street Theatre next week, for, in addition to the final performances here of "The Squaw Man" he will give the first presentation on any stage of "The World and His Wife," a play adapted from the Spanish masterpiece, "El Gran Calento," which will be produced at the special matinee on Tuesday afternoon. At all the rest of the week, there will be performances of "The Squaw Man" which has duplicated here its New York triumph.

COLONIAL THEATRE

Otis Skinner is going to have a royal welcome back to Boston at the Colonial Theatre next Monday evening. He has not been seen here for nearly two years, and in that period of absence he has scored his greatest success with "The Duel." That ran in New York nearly all last season, and proved a duplication of the experience that it had in Paris. The work is the masterpiece of Henri Lavedan, and it will be enacted here by the strongest company that could possibly be secured by Charles Frohman.

PARK THEATRE.

All the students about Boston will make their headquarters around the Park Theatre after next Monday, for then Hattie Williams comes for her first engagement upon the local stage as a star. This popular comedienne is a Boston girl, and all her successes have touched a responsive spot hereabouts. She will bring a company of clever comedians and pretty girls, among the former being James Blakeley, the English comedian, and Thomas A. Wise.

MAY BE NEW PREXY.

The visit to Boston of Harry A. Garfield, professor of American politics at Princeton and son of the late President James A. Garfield, has revived the rumor that he is to succeed Dr. Pritchett as President of the Institute. Prof. Garfield came here ostensibly to address the Williams College Alumni Association at their banquet on Saturday evening, but it is reported that he held a consultation with several of the Technology officials while in town. It is known that Prof. Garfield has been considered, among a great many others, as a successor to Dr. Pritchett, but his brother, J. McD. Garfield, said on Sunday that there seemed to be no reason for Prof. Garfield's trip to Boston other than the Williams College dinner.
